Not illustrated. 1893 Excerpt: . . . the said George was bounden prentise to a shoemaker in Congleton for the space of ten yeres; and after 10 yerea, the said George came to her mothers house; but . . . she cold never fansie or cast favour to hym, nor never will do; and she saies they never dwellid together. . . and never had any camall act together. I at once set to work and copied from the volume for six or seven hours a day during the rest of my stay in the fine old city on the banks of the beautiful Dee--a river without a single lock in it, from source to sea; and only one weir, at Chester, to keep a good head of freshwater always above the town! There are plenty of Depositions in this (1561-6) volume and elsewhere, in the Registry, in suits for divorces from these child-marriages--one of a Bishop marrying his daughter of four to a boy rather older, in his own palace; but I take the youngest of them, in which a baby-girl of two was married to a baby-boy of three, each being carried in a friends arms. The suit for divorce was brought in 1564 by John Soinerford, gentleman, when between 15 and 16, against Jane Somerford, alias Brerton, between 14 and 15 years old. The first deponent is the husbands uncle, John Somerforth, of Asbury, aged 28; he says that--he was present bie, when John Somerforth and Jane Brerton were maried together in...
