Brand New Book  Print on Demand .Pursuant to a congressional request, GAO reviewed the military services operation and maintenance (OM) budget requests for fiscal year 1994, focusing on whether OM accounts should be funded as requested. GAO found that: (1) potential reductions and rescissions to the services 1994 OM budget total $6.7 billion; (2) between fiscal years 1989 and 1992, the services had $1.197 billion in unobligated OM appropriations; (3) budget requests are generally overstated to compensate for future requirements and reductions; (4) the Air Force's and Army's budget requests do not reflect anticipated burden-sharing payments received from Korea and Japan; (5) budget requests for spare parts do not recognize savings available through improved inventory management practices; (6) the services budget requests for depot maintenance, travel funds, and pilot training flying hours are overstated; (7) funding for many Department of Defense (DOD) systems and drug interdiction efforts could be reduced due to their questionable effectiveness, viability, and continued need; (8) DOD could save substantial funding by increasing its use of existing cargo aircraft capacity and reducing its civilian personnel requests; (9) Congress could rescind funds for National Guard youth programs, special event security items, and the Navy's morale, welfare, and recreation programs; and (10) Congress could reduce the services repair and maintenance budget requests due to an expected base closing.
